Personal Property Fuel Surcharge Clarification

Currently, there are multiple fuel surcharge policies posted to the SDDC website which apply to personal property shipments. This notification serves as clarification regarding use of these policies.

Note 1: Personal Property Fuel Rate Adjustment Policy, TR-12, effective 5 Oct 05 is in effect for personal property shipments until IS/DS07 (1 Apr/1 May 07). However, based on note 2 below, a shipment which has a pickup date prior to 1 Apr/1 May, but arrives to port of debarkation subsequent to 1 Apr/1 May will continue to utilize TR-12 dated 5 Oct 05. All other personal property transportation services described in and conducted under the SDDC fuel policy are to utilize the Fuel Rate Adjustment Policy, effective 8 Jan 07.

Note 2: The fuel surcharge rate to apply to the linehaul portion of personal property shipments is the prevailing rate based on the pickup date of the shipment.

Note 3: The fuel surcharge rate to apply for shipments delivering out of/into storage in transit (SIT) is the prevailing rate for the actual delivery out date.

Note 4: The fuel surcharge applies to the linehaul transportation charges and delivery out of/into SIT warehouse for domestic and international shipments only when transportation occurs in CONUS, to include Alaska and Hawaii.

UpdatedNote 5: Due to the fact that the fuel rate adjustment policy generates a new fuel surcharge the 15th of each month, the effective date for the new surcharge application is 15 Apr 07 for international shipments and 15 May 07 for domestic shipments. The following illustrations are provided:
